

Hi all, below is a link to our new help desk center. After 'clicking' the picture, it will direct you to a screen with various resources. The videos are an excellent starting place for guardians. To be quite honest, I think these videos will be better than recording the workshop. The videos essentially cover all the material. There are also step-by-step guides that go even deeper than the workshop. The only thing lacking outside of a workshop setting is the opportunity for one to ask questions. However, we have a help desk to assist. Hope this will work for you.
