

County vs Municipal Jurisdiction

Many municipalities within Lycoming County have opted to administer their own Subdivision and Land Development Ordinance (SLDO). This map indicates the municipalities who either enforce their own ordinances or who have elected to join the Lycoming County SLDO and/or Zoning Partnerships. Municipalities shown in yellow or green are under the County SLDO. Municipalities shown in white or blue administer their own SLDO. The County has a very limited role in the review of subdivisions and land developments in municipal jurisdiction. The MPC requires a copy of a subdivision or land development plan be forwarded to the County for their comment whenever an application is received by the township. Please contact your municipality for details on any additional requirements for subdivisions and land developments within a municipality with local jurisdiction. If your municipality is located within the County SLDO Partnership please continue reading or contact the Lycoming County Department of Planning and Community Development for more information.
